

Jason Jerome King

December 25, 1968 - December 10, 2015

Our beloved husband, father, son, brother, uncle and friend, Jason Jerome King passed away December 10, 2015 in Orem, Utah. Jason was the son of Paul A. and Joan R. Williams King, born December 25, 1968 in Bremerton, Washington.

Jason married Julia Alago; they later divorced. He married Sheri Asay August 1, 2009. They were sealed for time and eternity in the Mount Timpanogos Temple August 1, 2012.

Jason was multi-talented and had many jobs ranging from security guard, RV salesman, working at Yosemite National Park, Catalina Island, handyman, and general laborer. He has lived in Washington, American Fork, California, Las Vegas, and lastly in Orem.

Jason is survived by his wife, Sherri King (Orem); daughter, Maryah King; step-children, Shylo Asay, Shandy Asay and Skyler Asay (all of Orem); mother, Joan (Harold) Hyatt (Missouri); step-mother, Colleen (Dave) Lee; sisters, Sarah (Joseph) Burgman and Debra (Bryan); brothers, Robert King (Orem) and Aaron (Cezanne) King; and many nieces and nephews.

Jason will be remembered for being kind, loving and gentle and for his fun loving personality. He had a lot of love and compassion towards others.

May you rest in peace. God be with you until we meet again.

Memorial services will be held at 11:00 a.m., Monday, December 14, 2015 at the Park 4th Ward Chapel, 50 South 750 West, Orem, Utah. Condolences may be extended to the family at <http://www.bergmortuary.com>.

“ Jason was a gift sent from god when I met him. He was the most wonderful husband and father. I was truly blessed to be his wife and spend 6 of the most amazing years with him. I love you to infinity and beyond. God be with you until we meet again.

Jason had a fantastic personality ... and he certainly still does on the other side! He always kept everyone laughing. He was so helpful to everyone who needed him. He was so friendly and had a smile for everyone. Jason truly loved everyone! He was (and is) one of those individuals who everyone wanted to be near. Love to you, Jason. Love and hugs to your wife and daughter and to all the kids who loved him as their Dad!

“ Jason is my brother, and friend. Jason lived some rough times before settling in Utah 7 years ago, but had found some balance in his life and love to spare. More often than most know, Jason put others before his own needs, and pain. (A long suffering samurai sword wound, from a ninja attack in Vegas put that limp in his walk) Always jovial and unabashed he was the entertainment in any group, and never minded making himself the butt of a joke, to get smiles. Born on Christmas Day a gift to all who knew him. He was a great dad to the 4 kids in his house (no longer kids) and children were drawn to him. (Probably because he transitioned to just another kid with ease) Rest Easy Jason, you did well, and will be rewarded for following Christ's example of how to act towards your fellowman. "Waiting for an invitation to arrive Goin' to a party where no one's still alive" Your in good company up there with all our friends.

“ I have not seen Jason in about 26 years when he was going to Las Vegas he passed by the San Pedro home with a wife? and some kids in tow, my memories is poor. I am glad to hear he found a warm home in Utah, and hope all the family will be comforted by loved ones in their grieving. I like this from Richard Gere so -- from me now "Someday you will be faced with the reality of loss. And as life goes on, days rolling into nights, it will become clear that you never really stop missing someone special who's gone, you just learn to live around the gaping hole of their absence.

"When you lose someone you can't imagine living without, your heart breaks wide open, and the bad news is you never completely get over the loss. You will never forget them.

"However, in a backwards way, this is also the good news. They will live on in the warmth of your broken heart that doesn't fully heal back up, and you will continue to grow and experience life, even with your wound.

"It's like badly breaking an ankle that never heals perfectly, and that still hurts when you dance, but you dance anyway with a slight limp, and this limp just adds to the depth of your performance and the authenticity of your character.

"The people you lose remain a part of you. Remember them and always cherish the Good moments spent with them." Madeleine McJones Aunt/2 from his Moms side.
